

CELEBRATING THE MOMENTS OF OUR

LIVES: SHARING LEGACY THROUGH STORYTELLING

“When Lori Silverman stepped to the front of the room and began her talk, a hush went through the audience; we were instantly riveted to our seats. Lori delivered her message with energy and wit. The time flew by and we didn’t want the program to end. Half the audience jumped up to meet her personally when she finished. Hire Lori for your next keynote!”

Ever wish you knew more about your parents, your grandparents or the antics of Great Aunt Lizzy? Their greatest adventures, daring escapes, and proudest achievements? Now is the time to preserve life’s stories—the wonder, the magic, the wisdom, the laughter, the traditions, the dreams and aspirations, the life of you and your family. Discover the four keys to personal legacy—making a difference, cherishing memories, imparting wisdom and bestowing mementoes. Learn how to capture these human experiences and foster storytelling that will last for generations to come.

YOU WILL DISCOVER...

- What people have done to make a difference in your life and how you can do the same for others.
- At least three ways to ensure memories are not lost and are conveyed over the years.
- How to effectively impart the wisdom you have gained over the years.
- The multiple meanings mementoes can have and their level of importance in people’s daily lives.

POSSIBLE FORMATS

- Keynote
- Half-day workshop

WHO SHOULD ATTEND? YOU SHOULD IF YOU...

- Want to create a personal legacy.
- Are interested in communicating family or organizational legacy to others.
- Aspire to leave behind more than a financial legacy.
